Gristmill Editors, Staff Picked for '62

Once again the excitement and exhaustion of a year at Shaker has been recorded for posterity in the 1960-61 yearbook, the Gristmill. The enlarged books were distributed on Senior Honor Day, June 7.

About 1,400 Gristmills were sold this year. Although a few extra copies were sold after school, they didn't last long.

The Gristmill editors worked for long months under the pressure of demanding deadlines to produce an improved yearbook for Shaker. This year's co-editors were Pam Silverman and Gregg Dixon. Bill Ginsberg and Louise Cort will take over as co-editors for next year.

Next Year's Student Council Committee Chairmen Chosen

By Judy Yarus

Bob Rawson, president-elect of the Student Body, has named the new committee heads of next year's Student Council.

He stressed the necessity and importance of all the committees by saying, "The major work of the Council is done in committee rather than in the actual meetings."

Rex Brown will be chairman of the Civics Committee, which is in charge of handling elections. In charge of the Welfare Committee is John Hexter, who hopes to improve the welfare drives throughout the coming year.

Making an effort to enlarge and better the clubs of our school and create a more interesting "Know-Your-Club Week" will be Wendi Bergman. Wendi will head the Clubs Committee.

A large variety of assemblies will be offered to the students next year. Working along with the teachers toward this goal will be Howard Freedman, head of the Assembly Committee.

Other Chairmen

Ed Wertheim will be given the official title of Council Parliamentarian as chairman of the Parliamentary Procedure Committee. Presentations will be offered for a greater familiarity with this project to any organization contacting the group.

Traffic and parking problems will be handled by the Safety Committee, of which Tom Humphrey is the chairman.

Pat Lovshin and Diana Neale will work together as the leaders of the Pep Committee. Their hope is to create a greater spirit throughout the school.

In charge of the Publicity Committee is Kathy Stone. In addition to their assistance in all publicity efforts concerning school functions, this committee also maintains the bulletin board in the main hall.

Jim Horsburgh will head the Lost and Found Committee. His ambition is to better organize this helpful service.

All students who desire help in certain subjects will be able to contact John Schumacher next year. His group is the Student Aid Committee.

The Student Employment Bureau will attempt to assist any students looking for part-time jobs. The chairman of this committee is Jim Ratner.

Bob commented, "With these committee chairmen as a backbone, we hope that next year can be the Student Council's most active and successful one."

'61 Citizenship Trophies Won by Horsburgh, Dixon

Citizenship Awards this year went to Joan Horsburgh and Gregg Dixon. The Awards, given by the Shaker Square Association, were presented to Joan and Gregg at the annual Senior Honor Day Assembly, Wednesday, June 7, at 9:45 in the high school stadium.

Six seniors were nominated for the Awards. The four runners-up received Book Awards given by the alumni associations of Connecticut College and Williams College and by the Shaker Heights Dads' Club.

Summer School Soon To Greet 800 Pupils

While most Shakerites will be joyfully leaving the thought of school far behind this summer, about 800 members of the student body will be returning on June 19 to brave the noise of construction while attending summer school.

Forty different classes have been scheduled, some for credit, some for personal use, and some for remedial work, to improve grades.

Students will have their choice of three periods in which to enrich their minds, 8:00-9:30, 9:40-11:10, and 12:00-1:30. A fee of $24 per class period is charged.

The curriculum is being enriched this year by the addition of such new courses as advanced biology and speed reading for personal use or credit.

To help the struggling A.P. Math students, A.P. Math 7 is being offered so that they will have a lighter load in their senior year.

Latin 3 and 4 is being presented for those wishing to revisit Caesar's Gallic Wars. This remedial course is being offered for the first time this year.

Returning again are courses in modern novel and advanced composition. Typing, which drew about 220 pupils last year, is again quite popular. It is for personal use and is offered all three periods.

Runners-up this year were Rochelle Golenberg, Emmie Rochelle Golenberg, Emmie Stonehill, Ned Grossman, and Don Lenhart.

The Citizenship awards are considered the highest honor a Shaker High student can receive. They are made each year to one senior girl and one senior boy who in the judgment of their classmates excel in character, in responsibility, and in service to the school.

Sophs and Juniors Elect New Chiefs

Next year's Shaker juniors and seniors chose their class officers in school elections held on May 17.

For the future juniors, this was their first opportunity to vote for their class officers. When they were sophomores, homeroom presidents voted among themselves for the class officers.

Seniors elected were Dave Gordon, president; Rex Brown, vice-president; Dave Bernon, treasurer; Betty Pentek, secretary; and Lindy Chester, social chairman.

Juniors elected were Jim Orr, president; Jules Lodish, vice-president; Charles Brannan, treasurer; Kathy Stone, secretary; and Laurie Cholfin, social chairman.

These new officers had been chosen from the classes at large. The names of all nominees were placed on the first ballot.

Civic Leader to Address Seniors At Severance Hall Commencement

By Louise Cort

Four hundred ninety-four seniors, the members of the Shaker Heights High School class of 1961, will cross the Severance Hall stage on Friday, June 16, to receive their diplomas and complete their high school careers.

This year's graduates will hear Ralph M. Besse, president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, deliver the commencement address. Mr. Besse, a native Ohioan, is widely active in civic projects, including the Cleveland Commission on Higher Education and the 1960 United Appeal. Last year he was awarded the Cleveland Medal for Public Service by the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Emery Presides

Superintendent Dr. Donald Emery will preside at the commencement ceremonies, which will begin at 8:30, and will be held for the fifth consecutive year at Severance Hall. The invocation will be read by the Reverend Maxfield Dowell, rector of Christ Episcopal Church.

Reynold Ellis will then direct the A Cappella Choir in "O Savior, Throw the Heavens Wide" by Brahms and "Love in Grief" by Melius Christiansen.

Following the address by Mr. Besse, who will be introduced by senior class president, Ken Korach, Russell Rupp will present the graduating class. William Burton, president of the Board of Education, and Allen Holmes, vice president, will distribute the diplomas. At the close of the program the Alma Mater will be sung.

Seniors will gather at Sever-

ance Hall at 2:00 of that Friday afternoon for rehearsal of the Processional and Recessional. They may return as early as 6:00 that evening to receive their robes, navy blue for boys and white for girls.

Each senior has received three tickets for the ceremonies. Parents may take photographs before or after the ceremonies, but no photography will be permitted during the program.

Commencement ceremonies are to honor the Senior Class as a whole. No single student will receive awards, since this event is reserved for the Honor Day Assembly.

Eleven Pedants Trail Seniors; Set Out for Places Unknown

By Jeanne Lowery

As the last bell rings on June 16, Principal Russell Rupp will enter the ring with other high school principals to vie for the finest teachers available. With eleven members of the present staff leaving, Mr. Rupp will have a lot of sparring to do.

A change of scenery is in store for Mrs. Ourina Forbes of the mathematics department, who is moving to California, and for Mrs. Thelma Wortmann, who will become a resident of Arizona. Miss Jean Smith is leaving Shaker's English department to make her home in Bedford, Ohio. Foreign shores are calling French teacher Miss Elizabeth Schneider for a year in France.

The language department will lose three other members. Mrs. Barbara Kneifel, Latin, and Mrs. Sue Langfellow, Spanish, will explore life outside the confines of Shaker Heights High, while French teacher Mrs. Lilly Molho will renew her vow to toil in a position at John Carroll University.

Miss Mary Ann Bamberger is trading the Shaker girls' gym for a position in Long Island, New York.

Joining the slippers and pipe club are Miss Alma Bowen and Mrs. Rita Wachs, who are retiring this year. Mrs. Wachs leaves an opening for a social studies teacher while Miss Bowen is vacating her position as head of the mathematics department.

School bells will again toll for Mr. Menford Gaines. Mr. Gaines, a newcomer to Shaker this year, will be taking graduate work.

Assorted Bletch

by Joel Stein

Once more graduation time is here, and with it problems of seating two parents, three goldfish, seven brothers and sisters and five grandparents in Severance Hall with only three measly tickets.

The answer is simple. We must rent the Cleveland Arena.

No longer is Severance Hall satisfactory for our purposes. Sure, the aura of majesty and elegance is fine, but it just isn't suitable. After three years of sweat, tears, and toil, a building where we can hold a seven-day Rat Race to commemorate our graduation surely is more fitting.

The Spectacle at the arena could, of course, be on a much more grandiose, magnificent scale. The very function of the auditorium suits it to a production of Kiss Me, Skate by the English and Drama Departments with the Ice Follies.

The arena, if you remember, was the Roman auditorium. So who could complain if we decided to throw the teachers to the lions? Or we could hire the Barons for an exhibition—the first time the whole school played hockey.

Summer Sequiter

A woman walked into a Malt Shop and asked for a chocolate malted. The waiter came back with a vanilla milkshake. Pleasantly surprised, the lady said, "How did you know I have a wooden leg?" "Simple," he replied, "you've got a rubber band around your neck."

Laronge and Lovshin Top List As Ticket Sale Breaks Record

The Red Raiders certainly won't go bare-legged next year, for the Advanced Football Ticket Sale made more money than in any other year. Through the Student Council and Social Council, $6 season football passes for seven games were distributed among the student body. One dollar tickets, good for any one of the seven games, were also sold as an added attraction in this year's drive.

Prizes for the most tickets sold and an assembly encouraged Shakerites to sell as many tickets as they could. Two clock radios were awarded to the boy and girl who sold the most tickets in the school during the drive.

Tom Laronge sold 164 tickets to win the first prize for the boys, and Pat Lovshin sold 92 tickets to win the girls' first prize.

Twenty prizes were offered for the boys who sold the most tickets and for girls who sold the most. Kathy Black, selling 76 tickets, and Don Eden, selling 120, received $15 each, the second prizes.

Third prize winners, receiving $10, were Bruce Ratner, with 89 sales and Peggy Printz with 65 sales.

Also receiving $10 were fourth and fifth prize winners, Connie Wolff with 63 tickets, and Joel Osher with 70 sales; Jean Donahower with 55, and Doug Whitehill with 67. The sixth through tenth prize winners won $5 each for their efforts. Eleanor Hackenburg and Joe Hacker came in sixth place; Mary Ann Stone and Harry Holmes, seventh place; Eileen Williams and Larry Lukasik, eighth place; Valerie Restifo and Bob Rawson, ninth place; and Betty Rees and Ned Grossman, tenth place.

Next Year Financed

Nay Sanna and Larry Singerman, organizers of the drive, were very eager to see the tickets sold. The $6,000 collected in the sale will pay for next year's athletic equipment for all the sports. The money will also help finance Saturday afternoon home football games.

Coach Sanna boasted, "The plan worked well enough, for more tickets were sold in this drive than in the drives of previous years."

Passes and single tickets were also distributed in the junior high. This plan increased the number of salesmen so that all Shaker Heights homes could be reached. A prize was also offered to the junior high home-room that sold the most tickets.

New Cheerleaders Dee Dee Burton, Betsy Gelier, Adrienne Ingley, Pat Lovshin, Diana Neale, Susie Conner, and Julie Bodwell practice a cheer.

Pre-Med Members Master Skin Grafting As Fifty-Five Rats Become Guinea Pigs

By Anabel Oleck

"Scissors—forceps—sutures—." Such is the conversation in Operating Room 204, where the doctors, surgeons, and nurses of tomorrow are getting first-hand experience in surgical skin-grafting on white rats.

Seven Pre-Med Club members have begun a project of skin-grafting techniques under the supervision of biology teacher, Jack Miller. The students became interested in this experimentation as done by last year's Nobel Prize winner.

About 33 young rats were purchased as a start. The grafts which have been made have been from back to the stomach, and vice versa, from the back to another part of the body, and even from the back of one animal to that of another.

Members of the club who are working on this project are Harvey Lefton, Ronnie Rosen, Kathy Stone, Dave Saunders, Gerry Kumin, Janie Swartzberg, and Dick Stanford.

Some grafts have been retained for up to three weeks, but then rejected. "The main problem is surgical technique," said Harvey Lefton. Each operation differs from all those before it to these students as they learn the ups and downs of the delicate problem.

There have been only three casualties thus far. Two animals died because of too much ether, and the third one was killed in a fight. The total population has risen two-thirds.

Revolutionary Discovery?

A side light of the grafting was the unusual birth of one litter just fourteen days after the first. Apparently the mother had come into no contact with a male during the time of both pregnancies. No explanation has been found.

The students plan to carry on their work for three years. Other and more complex kinds of transplantations are their goal.

Harvey Lefton, Dick Stanford, and friend participate in a skin grafting operation. This is one activity of the Pre-Med Club.

Honor Day Assembly Marks Seniors' Exit

Early yesterday morning Shaker's seniors had their final exposure to the student body in the Honor Day Assembly.

The program opened with the traditional processional and with the introduction and comments of Ned Grossman, retiring president of the Student Council Bob Rawson, the new president, and Ken Korach, president of the senior class, followed.

Shakerites were treated to a short concert by the A Cappella choir that preceded the presentation of awards and the installation of the new officers and Student Council.

New Cheerleaders Prepare for Fall

Five new cheerleaders will "stand up and holler" for Shaker next year. The girls, Adrienne Ingley, Julie Bodwell, Dee Dee Burton, Betsy Gelier, and Susie Conner, were selected May 24 by the present cheerleaders and by Miss Lucille Burkett, faculty adviser, with assistance from Miss Patricia Hallett.

The new members will replace the five seniors in the squad, Barbara Abel, Betty Rees, Sharon Craig, Pat Connell, and Susie Markiewicz. Pat Lovshin and Diana Neale, both juniors, will be co-captains next year.

Thirty-six sophomore and junior girls entered the competition May 17, and from this number 21 became finalists. Each girl was graded in several fields by a score of zero to four. The fields included personal appearance, poise, pep, personality, voice, rhythm, co-ordination, jumps, cartwheels, and splits. In addition to these scores, the cheerleaders considered grades, teacher recommendations, citizenship, integrity, and leadership.

Cindermen Edge St. Joseph Despite Injury to Key Man

By Sam Schnell

Undaunted by a loss to Euclid which broke a string of four consecutive dual-meet victories, Shaker's trackmen roared back with a hard-earned victory over St. Joseph, 63½ to 55½, on May 23.

The Vikings, rated as one of the more powerful track teams in the area, were edged by the spunky Raiders even though

Weiner, Kardos, and McGeorge Sparkle

Throughout Shaker's track season, three boys have consistently contributed the spark which has carried the Ricemen to several victories. These three, Bruce Weiner, Jim McGeorge, and Steve Kardos have provided almost guaranteed points to the Raiders over the year.

McGeorge has been the most versatile performer on the squad this year. He has won points in the 100-, 220-, and 440-yard dashes. His best event, however, is the broad jump. He made a gargantuan leap of 22' 10¼" to surpass the Shaker record by 1½ feet and win the district title.

Kardos's events are the high and low hurdles and the pole vault. In all but one meet this year he has captured the high hurdles event, and several times he has been a triple winner. Steve had the bad luck to sustain an ankle injury just prior to the district meet, but the district titlist ran the high hurdles in 14.9, and Kardos has whipped through them in 14.8.

Bruce Weiner, the senior captain of the Raiders and the only substantial loss to Coach Rice through graduation, handles the weight events. Bruce has won the shot put in almost every Shaker meet this year and he usually adds points in the discus throw. He broke the Hilltop Meet shot put record with a throw of 51' 5", and in the district meet he surpassed his personal high by almost a foot with a heave of 52' 9¼".

they had the advantage of running on their own track. Shaker was also handicapped by the absence of hurdles and pole vault star Steve Kardos, who suffered a sprained ankle while vaulting in practice.

Ish Childs jumped 19' 9¼" in the broad jump to edge McGeorge and Don Fields who completed Shaker's sweep in this event. St. Joseph then made the mistake of running John Kolovich, rated best in the state in the half-mile, in the 440-yard dash. Raider sprinter Bob Taylor, competing in the quarter-mile for the first time this year, beat McGeorge by 0.1 seconds with a blazing time of 50.8, and Kolovich finished a poor third.

Meanwhile Cal Boyd and George Caplan filled in amply for the injured Kardos. Boyd won the high hurdles event and was runner-up in the lows. Caplan vaulted 10' 6" to tie for second in the pole vault. In the other field contests, captain Bruce Weiner heaved the shot 50' 2", Dennis Kaufman placed second in the discus throw, and Tom Corcoran's leap of 5' 7", his best effort this season, tied for honors in the high jump.

The Raiders showed surprising strength in the distance runs. Reed Morton won the mile with the fine time of 4:49.7 and finished third in the half-mile run.

Raiders Top Rangers in Tenth To Gain Second Place in League

By Tom Humphrey

Finishing strongly with five victories in their last seven games, the Red Raiders put in a powerful bid for the L. E. L. title but could not quite attain that goal. Such fine performances as Chuck Cianciola's ten-inning stint against Lakewood were not sufficient as the Raiders wound up with a 9-6 L. E. L. record.

Over the season, Shaker won two out of three games from Shaw, Lakewood, Parma, and Heights, but lost two out of three to Euclid. In the last seven games the Raiders edged Lakewood twice, 4-1 and 2-1 in ten innings, and crushed Heights 8-2 before losing 3-0 to the Tigers. The Shaker club dumped Parma 5-2, Shaw 8-4, and fell to Euclid 8-1.

Perhaps the high point of the season for the Raiders came against Lakewood in the last league game as Charlie Cianciola pitched one-run ball for ten innings backed by flawless fielding. In the bottom of the tenth, Ken Korach singled, stole second, and scored on Bob Rawson's single as the left fielder bobbled the ball.

At Parma, Rusk stole home and Joe Anselmo helped his own cause with a booming RBI triple to clinch the victory. Running the bases with daring while helped by poor Lakewood throwing, the Raiders scored four runs without a hit to gain another victory for Charley Cianciola.

Golfers Win District But Fall in Columbus

Shaker's golf team won its fourth consecutive District golf title on May 19, but placed 13th in the all-important state match at Columbus on May 26 and 27.

The Raiders easily won the District match by six strokes over Cleveland Heights, both of which qualified for the state match. Terry Coyne posted an 85, Jeff Gerth an 84, Chuck Bailin an 87, and Tom Stone an 82.

After the first day's competition, the Stochers placed eleventh with a 91-84-92-89 for 356 strokes. Although they improved by 10 strokes with an 85-88-85-88 for 346 strokes, the Raiders dropped, on the second day, to 13th place with a total of 702 strokes. For both days Coyne posted a 91-87 for 176, Gerth an 84-88 for 172, Hank Wasserman, filling in for Chuck Bailin, a 92-85 for 177, and Stone an 89-88 for 177.

The Jay Vees are now competing in the Danny Budin Tournament. Skipper Weiss, Fred Simon, Dick Weiss, Dennis Roarty, Jim Orr, and Howie Schulman are vying for the tournament lead.
